WHO WILL BE SENATOR?

There are now nine avowed candidates for Senator, viz.: Carlisle, Knott, Lindsay, Buckner, McCreary, Winchester, Reeves, Moore and—unless his courage has failed at the sticking point—McKenzie. Of these Carlisle, Knott and McKenzie are about the only ones who are capable of taking Beck's place as a speaker. The rest have other than oratorical claims to recommend them and some of them would rattle in Beck's seat like a bean in a bladder.

Carlisle, of all men in the State, on the score of party service and intellectual strength, is entitled to the honor. The Senate is now in need of some sure-enough statesmen and we doubt if there be a Democrat in Kentucky who would not be satisfied to see Carlisle chosen Senator. Of course other candidates have their friends, but every body admires Carlisle and we all know that drunk or sober he is the ablest man in America.

Next to him Gov. Knott or Mr. McKenzie come nearer filling the bill. On the idea that Carlisle cannot be spared from the House and on the further idea that the western end of the State should have the Senator, we favor the election of McKenzie first and Knott second, or either of them who could harmonize this section of the State.

The other formidable candidates in the race are McCreary, Buckner and Lindsay in the order named. The latest figures we have seen give Carlisle from 27 to 33 votes on the first ballot, with the others pretty well bunched with from 10 to 15 votes each. It will be Carlisle against the field and the weaker candidates will combine to prevent the adoption of a rule to drop the hindmost man. The balloting promises to be long drawn out, but the general opinion about Frankfort is that Carlisle will ultimately win. He has the best managers and that counts for much in such a race.

Mr. McKenzie reached Frankfort Saturday night and formally announced himself. He will start in with a good following and ought ultimately to get the complimentary votes that Reeves and Stone will receive on the first ballot. If Western Kentucky's 47 votes could be cast as a unit, her strength would be hard to overcome in the caucus. It takes 59 votes to nominate.

The Morganfield Sun, in discussing the criticism of Mr. Ellis by Editor Givens for introducing a bill to erect a public building at Henderson, has this to say:

"That Mr. Givens' stand upon this question is right no one can consistently and successfully deny, and unless Mr. Ellis explains his action in this matter satisfactorily, Givens' vote in this county "will surprise the natives."

If this is all that can be said against Mr. Ellis, his opponent is indeed in desperate straits. As a matter of right and justice to the people, the government ought to construct a public building for a postoffice and other purposes in every town or city of 5,000 inhabitants. These buildings could in most instances be made self-sustaining from the rentals of offices in them and fewer postoffices would be found in unsuitable and badly located buildings. Money thus spent would be put to a better use than if squandered on bogus charity claims or in subsidizing manufacturing or steamship companies. Mr. Givens' alleged "issue" is the transparent argument of a very inexperienced young man, who, if he takes it up, will be in danger of being mistaken for a demagogue.

The Globe-Democrat and a New York paper, also Republican, last week published a scandalous and malicious assault upon Mr. Carlisle, charging that he was beastly drunk at the Beck funeral and had to be taken in charge by his friends. The lie was promptly given to the public and the correspondents of the above named papers, after making an investigation, were obliged to admit that their reports were not founded on fact. They got out of it by claiming that their informants had imposed upon them. It is a well-known fact that Mr. Carlisle's weakness is in this direction, but nobody believed for a moment that he would so far forget himself as to get drunk on such an occasion. The lie was started at an opportune time to have its effect on his Senatorial aspirations, as the Republicans are deeply interested in keeping Mr. Carlisle out of the Senate. It did no harm.

Thursday's Courier-Journal pays our Congressman the following handsome compliment: "At to-night's session of the House for the discussion of the tariff question, Representative Ellis, of Kentucky, was one of the speakers. He is one of the most scholarly men in the House, and his speech was therefore a remarkably clear and intellectual one. He dealt with the subject in a masterly manner, and made a contribution to the tariff literature that will be read with interest, and appreciated highly whenever it is circulated. The tariff discussion was commenced early to-day, and Mr. Ellis was quite fortunate in being able to obtain recognition at such an early period in the consideration of the subject, especially when it is remembered that he is a new member. The limit of debate is short, and many of the members are anxious to be heard."

In the Democratic primary election in Louisville last week, the most unblushing frauds were committed by friends of the various candidates. None but registered voters were entitled to vote, but many flouters were run in and voted under the names of absent or deceased voters. This shows that even with a law regulation frauds may be committed, unless the voter be required to produce his certificate of registration as provided by the Christian county law.

Night sessions are now being held every night to give as many Congressmen as possible a chance to speak on the McKinley bill. The measure will be passed and, iniquitous as it is, is likely to be the law of the country for some years at least. The next House, it is now conceded, will be largely Democratic, but the Republican Senate will obstruct all legislation looking to the relief of the tax-burdened people.

State Senator Dave Smith, of LaRue, is a physical light-weight, but mentally he weighs ton. There isn't a sharper, brainier parliamentarian in the Legislature, nor a lawmaker more devoted to the interests of his constituency. If Mr. Smith wants to be Lieutenant-Governor, Barren county is for him—but he should aim at something higher—Glasgow Times.

Christian county's 11 votes should be given to Thos. G. Poore for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. He is the present clerk by appointment and his election means the retention of our own countyman, Sam M. Gaines, as chief deputy. Aside from this, Poore is from our end of the State and the time has come for "Pennyrile" counties to stand together.

Another holocaust of the same character as at the Montreal Asylum horror, but on a smaller scale, occurred at Norwich, N. Y., on the 8th. Chenango county poor house burned at midnight and thirteen of the inmates were cremated in the ruins. The fire was started by one of the crazy paupers.

George H. Madden carried Henderson and Daviess counties in the primaries Saturday, to instruct for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. As Mr. Madden will get the eighty-eight votes of Jefferson county, he will be a potent factor in the race from the first ballot.

Y., next Thursday, left yesterday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Landes and Miss Anna. They will visit Niagara Falls and several of the large cities, and will be absent from home three weeks.

CREAM OF NEWS.

More Tornadoes.

The city of Akron, Ohio, was struck by a terrible tornado at 5:30 Saturday evening and a wide swath cut through the city. Fully 100 buildings were demolished and many people injured, some of whom will die. At Burlington, Iowa, a dozen houses were wrecked by a cyclone and fourteen persons were hurt of them fatally.

Fredonia, Kan., had a similar experience and a man and a boy were killed and other persons badly injured.

Dubuque, Iowa, was swept by a rain storm and Greenville, Pa., was deluged by a cloudburst, the same afternoon.

The State Medical Society.

The Kentucky State Medical Society will hold its thirty-fifth annual meeting at Henderson this week, beginning May 14. Dr. John A. Ouchterlony, of Louisville, is President. A very lengthy and interesting program has been prepared, and many papers of much interest to the profession will be read. Dr. Andrew Seagren, of this city, will on the 16th read a paper on the "Management of Abortion," which will be discussed by Drs. W. W. Cleaver, W. W. Coleman and J. O. McReynolds.

All of the railroads will give reduced rates.

Dry Victories.

Hopkins county was carried for prohibition Saturday by 424 majority. Earlington, Morton's, Hanson, Crabtree, Dalton and St. Charles gave prohibition majorities aggregating 613 votes and White Plains, Nortonville, Madisonville, Nebo, Charleston and Dawson, went wet by majorities footing up 289. The county has been dry for several years.

On the same day Caldwell county had a hot fight which was also won by the cold water crowd by 150 majority. The vote in Princeton was large and very close. Robt. Lander, the colored lawyer of this city, was one of the prohibition speakers who stumped Caldwell county.

Methodist Conference.

The eleventh session of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, convened at St. Louis last Wednesday, May 7. The first session of the General Conference of this church met in Petersburg, Va., May 1, 1846. That first conference was composed of eighty-seven delegates, representing 1,384 itinerant preachers, 2,833 local preachers and a church membership of 455,217. Then there were only two Bishops in the church. That was forty-four years ago. Now the General Conference is composed of 293 delegates, has eight Bishops and represents a membership of nearly 1,200,000.

Rev. J. W. Lewis, of this city, is in attendance. The session will last about a month.

Mr. R. F. Rives, of Casky, who bought a tract of land near Abilene, Texas, several years ago, has made a fortune out of his investment. The city now extends out to his farm and it will soon be absorbed for town lots. Mr. Rives also owns a large ranch a few miles out from Abilene, which is now being operated by his son Harry.

Rev. John O. Rust, pastor of the South Carrollton Baptist Church, preached at the Bardstown Baptist Church Sunday morning and night. The sermons were of a very high order, yet very plain and impressive, and all who heard him regard him as a young man of great promise. From expressions of opinion heard there is little doubt that he will be called by the church next Saturday, as a meeting will be held at that time for the purpose of calling a pastor. — Interior Journal.

Rev. S. N. Vail, who received a call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of this city some weeks since, has formally accepted the call. In a letter received from him yesterday he stated that it would be impossible for him to enter upon his duties for two or three weeks yet, as several matters incident to the death of the mother of Mrs. Vail, which occurred a few days since, claim his attention at present. Mr. Vail, during his recent visit here, made a very favorable impression upon all whom he met, and those who heard him preach, and he will be heartily welcomed to his new home by our people.

I have opened a new grocery and saloon in the Shyer building, formerly "Eclipse saloon," which I have a full stock of groceries, fine whiskies, Brandies, Wines, etc. Mr. W. H. Nolen will conduct the business and would be pleased to have the general public call. Good, fresh and cold beer kept constantly on tap.

C. P. Nolen.

Call at the Bath Rooms and take a refreshing bath, open all day and at night until 9, except on Saturday and then later.

DRUGS.

Our stock

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. 'Tis sold everywhere.
